Grand Excursion to the Seashore via Fennsylvania Railroad.

The low-rate excursions to the seashore last season being so well patronized by the Washington people, the Fennsylvania Railroad Company, in order to meet the demand of its patrons, bas determined to again offer extraordinary facilities for visiting the popular watering blaces of the Atlantic at a nominal cost and without loss of time, and will inaugurate the season of '88 with a grand special train excursion from Washington to Long Branch, N. J., on Saturday next, July 17. Special train, composed of first-class coaches, which will be run through from Washington to Long Branch, excursion from Washington to the seashore via Monmouth Junction without change, will leave the Sixth street station of the Bailmore and Potomac railroad at 19:30 p. m., stopping at Sea Girt, Spring Lake, Ocean Beach, and Elberon, arriving at Long Branch about 6 a. m.; returning, leave Long Branch about 6 a. m.; returning, leave Long Branch about 6 a. ms.; topping at the points mentioned above, thus affording the excursionists a full day at the seashore and the choles of several famous resorts. It is now the height of the season at these seashore and the choles of several famous resorts. It is now the height of the season at these seashore resorts, and a more delightful time could not be selected to visit them. This excursion will prove particularity a benefit to many business men and others who are unable to spare the time to visit such resorts. Fare for the round trip will be $2.50. As the excursion is likely to be a large one, those desiring to take advantage of the low rate would do well to secure their time to its actor, now the security of the cound trip will be given the security of the cound trip will be given to the security of the cound trip will be given advance.

ter of that institution, and sentenced each to five years imprisonment, will have to remain in the hotel de Crocker until next October if not longer. After the trial and imposition of sentence effort was made to have them released on ball until thoir case could be heard on exceptions in the court in general term. Justice MacArthur decilined to grant the release, but certified the motion to admit to ball to the general term to be heard in the first instance, and hearing was had last week.

Justice James yesterday delivered the opinion of the court, which was adverse to the applicants. His honor said that the court could not find that; the case was one in which it would be proper to take ball. This action of the court will be discouraging news to the friends of the defendants, and they have many who are firm believers in their innocence, and had hoped to see them enlarged on ball pending the final decision in their case. It is known that precedent exists for such a course, and it is further known that there are several individuals walking around the streets of the city who have been convicted of erime and let go free upon their personal recognizance.

Why Mrs. Mechan Wants Divorce and the Children.

Maggie A. Meehan, through her solicitor Mr. E. B. Hay, has petitioned for divorce from her husband, Bartholomew Meeban, and that she be given the custody of the children. The parties were married at Trenton, N. J., in September, 1871. She Trenton, N. J., in September, 1871. She status that three weeks after marriage, on account of his intolerable conduct and threats to take her life, she was compelled to leave him and return to the protection of her mother, in this city. He came here a month later and persuaded her to go back to Trenton with him, where she remained for anumber of years, and until January, 1879, when he ejected her and their children from the house into the cold and snow. She again went back and lived with him until August, 1881, when he sold the house over their head, and, bringing her children, she came back to her mother. Since then he has contributed nothing to the support of his family, and, having been adjudged of unsound mind, is now confined in the Trenton Insane Asylum.

CONSTRUING A WILL.

Mrs. Brown Entitled to Equal Participation in the Distribution.

Justice Merrick, in the court in general term, yesterday delivered the opinion of the court in the case of A. C. Richards and George L. Sheriff, executors of the estate of Andrew Rothwell against Laura E. Brown and others, as to the construction of a certain portion of the will of the deceased. The second clause recited that, "she having heretofore received her share of the estate," to her was bequeathed the gold watch of the testator. Then followed gold watch of the testator. Then followed a number of specific bequests to the remaining children, after which the testator directs that what property there may be remaining be turned into money and divided equally between the children. It was this clause on which construction was saked, and as to whether or not Mrs. Brown was entitled to a share in this distribution. The court reversed the judgment of the court below and held that Mrs. Brown was entitled to participate equally with the others in the distribution.

THE POTOMAC FRONT. What Has Been Accomplished Up to the Present Time.

Col. Hains, in his report of the operations for improving the river front during June, states that the work under the first June, states that the work under the first contract is practically completed. That under the second contract, in the Virginia channel above the Long bridge, progressed favorably until the 19th of June, when dredge No. 3 was burned. Up to the present time about 300 acres have been reclaimed from overflow at ordinary high tide. Of the 12,000,000 cubic yards required to fill the flats there has been deposited on them about 4,230,000 yards.

To attend the twentieth annual encampment G. A. R. to 55 heid Aug. 3 next the B. and O. Be-livad Company will from this date sell round-trip tickets by this line at the rate of 875. These tickets are good going by one route and returning by any other of the through lines. Stop-over privileges will be allowed on the tickets at all prominent points.

The special train of sleepers and dining car being arranged for by the G. A. R. committee on transportation to leave Washington July 25 instant for a thirty-days' trip, including fare, sleeper, and meals for the entire time for $150 for the whole Journey, afford a cheaper and much more desirable trip, as each passenger will have a double berth or only two to a section and dist-class meals served on train, thus securing actual home comforts to every passenger without any change of cars or crowd, and no hotel bills during the entire journey. The special train will stop from one to three days at the principal points of interest along the route going and returning.

Persons desiring to stay longer than thirty days can have the time of their tickets extended.

Should any reduction in these rates be made by any of the transcontinental lines before July 25 the B. and O. Company will give all passengers by the special train the advantage of such reduction.

For information concerning the above rates apply at the B. and O. ticket office, corner of Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

PORTER AGAIN ON TOP. Persistent Battle Between Two Litigants and Some Feeling. Probably no two names have become nore familiar on the civil dockets of the court than those of R. H. Porter and Stephen V. White, and they are always arrayed against each other as litigants. Porter filled a bill in equity against White for a receiver and account to settle up business matters between them, which was subsequently dismissed by the judge presiding in that court. Then White had Porter arrested on the charge of committing perjury, alleging that certain matter he had sworn to in the equity bill was false, and that Porter so knew when he swore to it. The grand jury ignored the bill. It was then Porter's Inning, and he entered suit against White, charging him with matleious prosecution, setting the damages at $30,000. At the trial, upon the ruling of the court, the jury returned a verdict for White, and an appeal was noted. The case was carried up on error of the court in its instructions, and Justice Hagner, in the general term, yesterday delivered the opinion of the court, reversing the judgment of the court below and remanding the case for a new trial, which brings Porter again on top.

Some of those notified of the meeting of the nex of those notified of the meeting of the next jury expressed their determination of withdrawing their appeal, which they can do any time before the second jury meets and accept the award which has been made. First Comptroller Durham, in answer to the statement of the district attorney that property holders on the library site who are satisfied with the awards of the jury in condemning the land can be paid the money at once, says: "While I have not considered the subject very carefully, I would advise those who have charge of disbursing the money for the site to be very careful how they make any such payments before the whole matter is settled. The question is a very important one in this connection, and it might cause a good deal of trouble in the future if any hasty steps are taken in paying out the money."

PERISHABLE DRY Goods.

One thousand and one articles in our store do not change in price from January to December. One thousand and one other articles upon which the sale is limited to a few months we class as "Perishable Dry Goods," and at the close of their particular season sell them the same as the marketmen sell their berries on a Saturday night.

They'll be worth nothing Monday morning. hence he takes the best price he can get. So with strictly Summer Goods at this season of the year. The longer we keep them the less they'll be worth; hence we are anxious to dispose of them, and to do so we have marked them down while in season to a price that will them down while in season to a price that will sell them. For instance:

Lace and Boucle Dress Goods sold readily enough the first of the season at 50 and 75c per yard. Belonging to summer we call tham "Perishable," and drop the price to 31c per yard. At this price they ought to go as fast as berries would at 5c a bucket. Colors—cream, navy blue, seal brown, myrtle green, mode, and four shades of tan; from 50 and 75 to 31c per (First floor: Middle Counter.)

Linen Lawns belong to summer. They also are classed among the "Perishable," hence we forget what we paid for them, and drop the price to put them in your hands at once. 19c Figured Linen Lawns drop to 10c. 25c Figured Linen Lawns drop to 15c. 371/c Figured Linen Lawns drop to 25c. How long, think you, they will last at these prices ? (Second floor; take elevator.)

Ladies' Gauze Underwear belongs to summer. It is also classed among the "Perishabies." How much will it bring in December? We prefer to let you have it now while seasonable nence the reduction.

Ladies' Merino Vests, low neck and short deeves, reduced from 33 and 49c to 25c each.

dieves, reduced from as and sec to see each.

Ladies' Merino Vesta, low neck and snort sieves, reduced from 50 to 35c; 3 for $1, Ladies' Extra Fine Merino Vesta, high neck and short sieves, high neck and long steaves, reduced from 6214 to 50c each. Figured India and China Silks are summer abrics, fience they are also classed as "Perish-bles." We save them from perishing by lowering the price white in season and closing them out. Light ground colors, with next high-colored figures, very rich and pretty. Reduced from $1.25 to 75c per yard.

White suits are strictly summer costumes, so fall in with other Perishables. We don't give them a chance to get old, soiled, and rumpled, but drop the price at once, and away Ladies' Ready-made Ecru India Linea Suits,
